

Dichroicarus
Milan, Italy

A flying cube, made up of many shimmering layers of dichroic film. Very straightforward and very mysterious at the same time. As the wind moves the volume erratically through the sky one never can completely discern what one is looking at.

Client	“Wallpaper* Handmade 2014” exhibition
Program	Kite prototype
Area	N/A
Status	Concept design 2014
Team	Florian Idenburg, Jing Liu, Ilias Papageorgiou, Pietro Pagliaro, Gilbert Berthold, Kendall Latham
Photography	Delfino Sisto Legnani
Collaborators	3M

View